The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold. It was a sharp, biting cold that seemed to seep into my bones. I pulled my coat tighter around me and walked towards the entrance of the building. The air was thick with the scent of old wood and the faintest hint of incense. I had heard that the place was haunted, but I had never believed it until now.
 The door was open, and a beam of light fell across the floor, illuminating the dust that had settled there for years. I took a deep breath and stepped inside. The room was vast and empty, with high ceilings and walls that seemed to breathe. I walked further in, my footsteps echoing on the polished floor. The light grew dimmer, and the air grew colder still.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document, written on aged, yellowed paper. The text is arranged in approximately 10 lines, with some lines being significantly longer than others. The ink is dark and the paper shows signs of wear, including two prominent dark circular marks (possibly holes or stains) near the center. The script is dense and difficult to decipher without specialized knowledge of the language.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. The script is dense and fills most of the page. There are two prominent circular holes or indentations in the center of the page, suggesting it was once bound or folded. The text is arranged in several lines, with some variations in line length and spacing. The overall appearance is that of an old, possibly official, document.

Handwritten text in Burmese script, likely a manuscript or document. The text is written in a cursive style and is arranged in several lines across the page. The script is dark and appears to be ink on a light-colored paper. The text is somewhat faded and difficult to read in some places due to the age and condition of the document. The lines of text are roughly horizontal, following the width of the page. There are some small, dark spots or holes in the paper, particularly in the middle section. The overall appearance is that of an old, handwritten document.
